Abstract

Originally published in Contemporary Psychology: APA Review of Books, 1996, Vol 41(3), 287. Authored by scholars and practitioners in the field of bereavement and care, this text (see record 1995-98196-000) focuses on the care of terminally ill patients and the issues that confront their caregivers and loved ones. The text is especially aimed at practical issues, such as helping children at times of loss, respecting the spirituality of the dying, symptom management, funerals, dying at home versus in hospitals or through hospice programs, communicating about death and dying, death education, and the bereavement process. This text would be a useful reader and supplement for beginning courses on death and dying. (PsycINFO Database Record (c) 2006 APA, all rights reserved)
